Kefauver Says Party Chiefs Favor Adlai

By Jack Bell
CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver charged today that the Democratic National Committee had favored the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson for the 1956 party presidential nomination.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler promptly denied Kefauver's assertion that the committee had sent telegrams from Washington bearing Stevenson's name to local party meetings.

Telling a crowded news conference that he had been told of "four or five" such instances, Kefauver said: "I am not complaining now, but I just don't think it's proper."

December Announcement
Kefauver, who said he will announce by Dec. 16 or 17 whether he will enter the race for next year's presidential nomination, said that "in times past there has been evidence that the committee has been trying to help Stevenson."

He said well-wishing telegrams were sent to local meetings by the National Committee from Washington, bearing Stevenson's name, "sometimes in the summer." He added that he was not sure Butler had had any part and that this might have occurred under the regime of Stephen A. Mitchell, former chairman.

"I don't think the committee should plug for any one person," Kefauver said.

Clayton Fritchey, deputy national chairman under both Mitchell and Butler, said he was certain no such telegrams had been sent by the committee.

Butler said the national group had been "absolutely neutral."

Kefauver's slap at the committee was delivered with the air of a man who has made up his mind to run against Stevenson, but is withholding his official announcement for strategic reasons.

The Tennessee senator said that, in talking to "Democratic leaders and just good Democrats" over the country since his return from a European trip six weeks ago, he had "more encouragement than I got in 1952."

In that year, Kefauver led on the first two ballots at the national convention but lost the nomination to Stevenson.

Chartered Plane Carrying Soldiers Crashes In Flames, Kills 27 Persons

SEATTLE, Nov. 18 (AP)—A fiery midnight crash of a faltering airliner, chartered by soldiers to speed them homeward from the Far East, killed 27 passengers in a residential area today.

Seventy-four persons were aboard the DC4 at least one of its four powerful engines sputtered and possibly failed after taking off from Boeing Field. Forty soldiers were taken to hospitals with injuries. Nineteen were released by noon. A woman and three children escaped with only bruises.

Five of the soldiers were reported in critical condition.

Every person aboard the plane was injured to some degree, although some only slightly.

Doubts Engine Trouble
The copilot, Fred Hall of Miami, said from his hospital bed 12 hours after the crash that he did not believe engine trouble could have caused the crash. He said there was trouble in one engine but that the remaining three are "enough to get that type of plane up without too much trouble." He also said it was not overloaded.

That was where the crippled plane hit. It sheared a tree, ripped out power lines and obliterated a garage-workshop besides a house.

Co. of Miami Springs, Fla., survived.

A witness to the carnage said, "It was a miracle anyone lived through that crash."

There was "poppin' and sputterin'" from the engines, said elderly E. J. Rice, who saw the plane crash. "That pilot knew he was going to crash. It looked like he was fighting to reach a little clear space among the houses."

Dwellers Unhurt
That was where the crippled plane hit. It sheared a tree, ripped out power lines and obliterated a garage-workshop besides a house.

Its scattered gasoline set afire another house with five sleeping children in it.

Almost by a miracle, no one was injured in the houses.

The plane had been chartered by 66 soldiers to take them to Army centers for their discharges in time to get home for Thanksgiving. Stops were scheduled at Chicago and Newark, N.J. The soldiers were from the East and Midwest.

It was one of nearly two dozen to take off with about 1,000 soldiers within 15 hours after the transport, Gen. R. L. Howze, arrived from the Orient.

Secretary of State Dulles relayed Eisenhower's views at the end of a 30-minute radio-television report Dulles made to the people on the frustrated meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Geneva.

Dulles, specifying that Eisenhower "fully shares" his assessment, pinned the blame for the Geneva stalemate squarely on the Russians.

"In fact," he said of the parley between the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France, on the one hand, and Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov on the other, "it didn't get us anywhere at all."

That was an ad libbed remark the secretary slipped into his prepared in-advance report he had gone over earlier today with Eisenhower at Gettysburg.

Answers Five Questions
Dulles quoted the President as telling him the spirit of 165 million free Americans will eventually help achieve peace.

Dulles built his 4,000-word speech around five questions which, he said, "are in the air" as a result of the failure of the Geneva meeting to make a single agreement.

Here are the questions as Dulles phrased them and, in brief, his answers:

Q. Does this mean that the so-called 'spirit of Geneva' is dead?
A. The Russians "are not yet willing to create the indispensable conditions for a secure peace."

Won't Admit Defeat, Say Dulles, Ike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged tonight the United States "will never admit defeat" in its quest for world peace despite the deadlock with Russia at Geneva.

"Success may be long in coming," he said, but "no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace."

Two Stream Projects Completed

THE STATE Department of Forests and Waters has completed two stream clearance projects in Monroe County.

District Engineer Marshall S. Goulding said last night that projects have been completed in East Stroudsburg and Scotrun.

In East Stroudsburg, Goulding said, workmen cleared a section of Broadheads Creek north of the interborough bridge to protect the borough's low-lying Park St. area.

Later Project Seen
"It's possible that there will be some additional debris clearance along the Broadheads in East Stroudsburg at a later date," Goulding added.

He further disclosed that three new projects have been started during the last week in Paradise Valley, Tobyhanna and Dingman's Ferry.

A new project will be started in the Mountainhome area this morning, Goulding said, and several others are expected to begin throughout the district next week.

Two economists and the president of Grinnell College favored some form of federal aid for schools in a panel discussion before the Joint Economic subcommittee on low income families. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

The witnesses said education, training and job opportunities are necessary parts of any program.

Earlier, Secretary of Welfare Folsom testified that President Eisenhower "continues to feel strongly that sound and effective local, state and federal action is needed to eliminate the nation's school classroom shortage."

Asks Judgment Be Entered In His Favor

PRELIMINARY objections to the complaint brought against Atty. Leo Achterman Sr. by the two Republican county commissioners were filed in his behalf yesterday.

Commissioners Amzi F. Altomose and W. Adolph Rake have brought suits totaling $500,000 against the Democratic campaign chairman because of a speech he made Oct. 20.

Files Answer
Their complaint contended that Achterman made charges in his talk before the West End Democratic Club which were "false, untrue and did convey to the community at large the impression that the plaintiffs... were guilty of malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance in office and of conduct in direct violation of their oath of office."

In the preliminary objections filed yesterday, however, Achterman asked that a judgment be entered in his favor because "the facts set forth in the complaint do not constitute a cause of action on behalf of the plaintiffs against the defendant."

Furthermore, Achterman argued: "The complaint fails to set forth the details and particulars in which the plaintiffs have suffered in their business reputations, their feelings, their physical condition and their peace of mind, and fails to itemize the damages the plaintiffs have allegedly sustained and fails to set forth the circumstances giving rise to such damage."

In his speech, Achterman contended that "the county's Republican government is operating in the hole" and "to all intents and purposes it is bankrupt."

Critiques Officials
Achterman also scored the county administration for its handling of the controversial tax equalization program.

The plaintiffs in the libel action were low men in the recent elections. Altomose was defeated and Rake will return to the county board as minority member next year.

The preliminary objections to the suit were filed on Achterman's behalf by Atty's James Scanlon and Joseph McCluskey, and were accepted for the plaintiffs by their counsel, Atty. James T. Kitson.

Graham Denies Placing Bomb

DENVER, Nov. 18 (AP)—John Gilbert Graham claimed in a jail cell interview today he did not plant a time bomb on the United Air Lines plane which exploded and killed his mother and 43 others.

"I'm not in the habit of doing anything like that. I respect other people's lives as much as my own," said the 23-year-old Graham.

Plane Failed By 300 Feet; 14 Men Die

LAS VEGAS, Nov. 19 (AP)—The margin of death was only 300 feet for 14 persons aboard an Air Force transport plane which crashed into a snowy mountain peak yesterday while flying to Nevada atomic bombing range.

Although ground parties, battling rugged terrain and temperatures near zero, had yet to reach the crash, a reconnaissance pilot today flew over burned wreckage and said there was no sign of life.

Maj. J. E. Manch, operations officer at Nellis Air Force Base here, reported the wreckage was at about the 9,000-foot elevation on Charleston Peak, visible from this city.

Plane in Climb
He said that had the four-engined C54 been just 300 feet higher it would have gone over a ridge and been in the clear. Wreckage indicated the plane had been in a climb and rushed into the mountain rather than hitting it head-on.

Snow was melted in the crash area. The forward part of the plane was burned. One engine had been torn away.

A ground party was reported only three to four miles from the crash, but the area was so precipitous that it expected to take nearly a day to travel the remaining distance.

Sheer cliffs and swirling winds made it impossible to get a helicopter or parachutist into the area.

Communists Pose Blockade Threats To West Berlin
BERLIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—Win threats against blockade-conscious West Berlin were posed today by Communist East Germany.

First, the Communists ordered a crackdown on Western motorists who drive "carelessly" on the highways leading through Communist territory to the isolated city.

Mahany Hints GOP To Supply Votes To Pass Leader's Tax

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Republican Senate leadership indicated the GOP probably would provide sufficient votes to pass Gov. Leader's manufacturers' excise tax as a means of ending the year-long tax deadlock in the General Assembly.

"I think we'll take the governor's tax," Sen. Mahany, Republican Senate leader, told reporters, "that is, we will probably give him three votes to pass it because that seems to be the only thing we can get at this late date."

"And certainly," Mahany said, "it's better than an income tax from which we saved the people."

Mahany, asked flatly if he thought the GOP would provide the necessary three votes to pass the excise tax bill, replied:

Promises Quick Action
"I think that is a safe statement."

"I would vote for it," Mahany said, "rather than see our hospitals and schools closed down."

Mahany promised quick action by the Senate upon House passage of the measure. He said the Senate will take up the bill the week after it passes the House.

The governor's office went ahead with plans to introduce the excise tax bill in the Democratic-controlled House Monday, hoping to pass it at a post-midnight session Tuesday.

That would place the measure before the Republican-ruled Senate which killed Leader's classified income tax bill last August. Democrats have 23 votes in the Senate and need 26 votes to pass a bill.

Security Regulations Revised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Defense Department today revised its military and personnel security rules and Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) called it a step toward restoring "constitutional rights."

Under the new regulations, the armed services will investigate for possible security risks before putting people in uniform, instead of afterward as now.

Under a directive issued by Secretary of Defense Wilson, when a person refuses on constitutional grounds to fill out a questionnaire concerning connection with organizations on the attorney general's list, he will be subjected to a full investigation before being inducted. He then may be accepted or rejected. But if accepted, the inductee will be entitled to an honorable discharge if his service conduct merits it.

Blind Leader, Orchestra Held On Dope Charges
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18 (AP)—All nine members of a "rhythm and blues" band, including its blind leader, Ray Charles, were held in $10,000 bail each today on narcotics charges.

The group was arrested last night at Town Hall in a police raid which was held up while the organization played three more numbers after an intermission. This was done so some 2,000 dancers wouldn't know of the back-stage raid.

Charles, 25, Negro, cooperated with police to prevent a disturbance. He and his band members, including a girl vocalist, were charged with using narcotics.

Lt. Thomas McDermott said a quantity of marijuana was found stuffed into a chair backstage. On the bandstand itself, police said they found a hypodermic needle.

Egypt's final response is still awaited.

Panel Urges Federal Aid For Schools

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Federal aid for education was urged today by a congressional committee today as a major way to aid low income families.

Two economists and the president of Grinnell College favored some form of federal aid for schools in a panel discussion before the Joint Economic subcommittee on low income families. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

The witnesses said education, training and job opportunities are necessary parts of any program.

Earlier, Secretary of Welfare Folsom testified that President Eisenhower "continues to feel strongly that sound and effective local, state and federal action is needed to eliminate the nation's school classroom shortage."

Revisions Studied
Folsom said a "fresh look" is being taken at the whole situation. He added that he and the President "have discussed a number of possible improvements and revisions which we are considering in the administration's proposals for federal assistance."

Lack of education and training, which prevents the head of a family from reaching his full potential, is a fundamental cause of low income," Folsom said.

President Howard Bowen of Grinnell testified "I feel strongly that the federal government must get into education on a financial basis more than it has in the past."

Ike At Office For Conferences
GETTYSBURG, Nov. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower spent nearly three hours at his office today, the longest period at his desk since his heart attack.

Presidential callers today included Dillon Anderson, Eisenhower's top adviser on National Security Council affairs; Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe, and Secretary of State Dulles.

Severe Storm Passes To Sea

By The Associated Press
A VIGOROUS storm that brought wintry blasts to much of the eastern half of the nation moved out over the North Atlantic yesterday, but subnormal cold still prevailed in most sections.

Freezing weather dipped as far south as southern Arkansas and the northern portions of Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia Friday. Augusta, Ga., had light frost. Northern Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle also had freezing temperatures.

Overnight minimums of zero and below were common in Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas.

13 Deaths
However, the nation generally got a respite from heavy snows that were blamed for 13 deaths in various parts of the country. Nine other persons were missing and presumed dead.

A southwest flow of air boosted temperatures 10 to 20 degrees in the Midwest and the northern Rockies.

Author O'Connor Fined $500 In Contempt Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Author Harvey O'Connor, who refused to tell Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) whether he was a Communist, was fined $500 and given a suspended one-year jail term today despite his argument he was "an innocent bystander in a brawl."

The brawl, he said, was between McCarthy and what the Senator termed the Acheson State Department.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled O'Connor was guilty of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer this question put to him July 14, 1953:

Whether O'Connor was a "member of the Communist conspiracy at the time when he wrote books which were purchased by the old Acheson State Department and distributed in our information centers."

O'Connor said then, and repeated with amplification that, under the First Amendment, his writings, books and political opinions were no concern of McCarthy's subcommittee.

"I feel that the real reason that I am here in court today is that I wrote books," O'Connor told Judge McGarraghy. "If I hadn't written books the State Department wouldn't have bought them."

O'Connor said the First Amendment was the crux of the case—"the freedom of a writer to write."

The issue of whether McCarthy was within his right in asking the questions ultimately will be decided by higher courts.

Immediately after O'Connor was sentenced, his attorney, Gerhard P. Van Arkel, served notice of an appeal.

Judge McGarraghy, in denying last week a defense motion for acquittal, held that Congress has the power to examine the authors of books being used in the U. S. information program "to determine if those authors were members of the Communist conspiracy at the time they wrote those books."

Student Rolls Up
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Samuel M. Brownell, commissioner of education, estimates that a record 2,716,000 students enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities this fall. This is 8.6 per cent higher than the previous peak of 2,500,000 students last year.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—James W. Lee, 22, a sailor from Orson, Wayne County, Pa., was killed today when his car failed to negotiate a curve and crashed 12 miles from the Lakehurst Naval Air Station, where he was stationed.

First Returns Received In County Christmas Seal Campaign

183 Letters Show Yield Of $535.80

FIRST RETURNS in the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society's 1955 Christmas Seal Sale campaign yesterday produced only slightly less than $3 per letter.

Returns from some 183 letters produced $535.80. All Seal Sale letters this year, as they did last year, contained 30 of the color Christmas seals for use from now on through the New Year holiday season.

Last year the first returns ran marked less than $3 per return.

The Seal letters are not to be confused with Christmas Seal Bonds which run from $5 upwards. These letters are expected, on the basis of early returns from Seal letters, to keep pace or better last year's record.

Machine Purchased

Last year's Seal Sale funds were "mortgaged" to purchase a Chest x-ray machine for installation in General Hospital. There, still property of the TB Society, it has for the first time in local hospital history provided Chest x-rays for hospital admissions.

In addition, the TB Society has conducted a free pre-natal Chest ray service with the machine for all expectant mothers admitted to the hospital for a test period. This service was requested by Monroe County Medical Society.

The equipment has also been used to provide free x-rays for high school athletes and other school personnel in the county.

Wild Animals Have Soft Spot In Their Hearts, Says Expert

EVEN THE TOUGHEST wild animal has a soft spot in his heart, somewhere, Mrs. Helen Martini, famed animal nursery worker told Dutch Treat Club members Thursday night.

Mrs. Martini's address dealt with her work with baby animals at the Bronx Zoo where her husband, Fred, is chief lion keeper.

Her role as baby-sitter to lions, tigers and leopards had its beginning when a lion and lioness mated at the zoo, had three babies. The mother "neglected the babies and paid attention only to the father," the petite animal-tamer told her audience. As a result, two of the babies died. In desperation, Martini brought the remaining lion cub home with him and asked his wife to care for it.

She did. The cub grew up into a strong lion. And "the first thing I knew there were baby tigers in the house, too," Mrs. Martini said.

Tamed Black Leopard

The supreme test of the woman's ability to "tame" baby wild animals came a short time later when she became chief governess and nursemaid for a baby black leopard, supposedly the wildest and most ferocious of all animals. It was tough, at first, she said—the panther fought everything within reach "even before her eyes were open," she said.

Mrs. Martini eventually won the panther over. Later, when the panther became a mother, Mrs. Martini went to her cage to visit her. The female quickly ran away,

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, Tobyhanna, have transferred a building and three lots there to Mr. and Mrs. Glenmore H. Newhart Jr., Tobyhanna.

brought back her babies and dumped them in Mrs. Martini's lap. It was a fine tribute to the panther's memory and Mrs. Martini's own effect as nursemaid, zoo officials agreed. Within a short time a regular animal nursery was set up at the zoo and Mrs. Martini was placed in charge.

School authorities called police who looked into the situation and found that 13 boys were outside the school—and had come from Scranton, not Philadelphia.

Although they weren't disorderly, police told the overall-clad youths to move on.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's getting increasingly difficult for us to show the scars of our operation to tourists—meaning, of course, marks left by the flood. There used to be water lines on the windows, black marks on the walls, and mud all over everything.

Now with the windows replaced, the walls painted, it's getting harder and harder to believe. Now another visible reminder is gone with that hedge that used to surround the textile plant.

It was more rags, paper, bits, and bobbles of unidentifiable objects than it was hedge and certainly gave tourists something to gawk at. Well, we've still got our broken bridges and battered cars under it.

And thanks to the AAUW Book Fair, I've got plenty of reading material for the week-end. They've still got a lot of books left, and today they'll all be ten cents apiece. Such price glory. Such short years ago they were on the best seller list.

Seems queer to think of the stir some of them created in their time—ones like "Anthony Adverse" for instance.

Medical Aux. Has Talk By Mrs. Michener

Mrs. C. Raymond Michener of Buck Hill was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Monroe County Medical Society at their meeting on Thursday night at the General Hospital.

Speaking on "Antique Glass," Mrs. Michener told of the mystery of its origin, claimed by both Egypt and Syria, and the developments of the various methods of glass making, and types of pattern glass. She illustrated her talk with antiques from her own private collection.

She was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Paul R. Maxwell. Mrs. Horace G. Butler presided at the meeting. Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. James E. Kitchen II reported on the state convention in Pittsburgh in September.

The report of Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, nurse recruitment chairman, was read, announcing four Future Nurses Clubs now active in the county: Stroudsburg High with 40 members; Pocono Lake, 7; East Stroudsburg, 27; and Pocono High School, 9.

The Pocono Township High School club is the newest of the four and Mrs. Edward Horn Jr. is sponsor.

Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, Mrs. John Martucci, chairman of the AMS educational foundation fund, and Mrs. Harold S. Pond, chairman of medical benevolence, will report at the January meeting on plans for a benefit for Auxiliary projects.

The hostesses, Mrs. John L. Runsey and Mrs. Morton Spinner, served sandwiches and cookies after the meeting when the auxiliary was joined by the members of the Monroe County Medical Society.

After the meeting Mrs. Michener displayed the jewelry she makes, proceeds from which are used for the radium fund of the hospital.

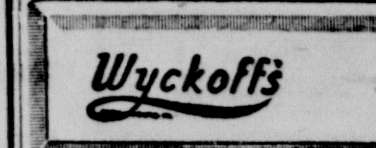

Our center aisle at Wyckoff's is a study in contrasts right now—our gift department, for instance, is concerned with the solemnity and reverence of the Christmas season; our candy department is concentrating on its gaiety and festivity.

In the gift department we are keyed to a "Silent Night." There is a magnificent manger, from Germany, which stands about a foot high and is peopled with figurines of china, exquisitely hand painted. Nearby are several types of music boxes, all devoted to scenes of the Nativity, daintily carved from wood and painted in glowing colors . . . some of the scenes revolve, others are stationary, while the tiny instruments inside throb out the silver-sweet notes of the beloved carol.

The German creche is, of course, the most expensive of these items—but with plenty of reason. If at first its 50.00 price tag inspires a gasp, study it carefully for a few moments. Note that each figure is actually a work of art and could be used on the knick knack shelf any time. And there are quite a few of these figures—Mary, Joseph, the Infant, a cow, a donkey, several lambs, two shepherds, and the three wise men. Smallest of the music box Nativities is priced at 5.98 with others at 16.50 and 23.50. All are works of art . . . and works of heart that touch in splendor upon the meaning of our Christian holidays.

But in the candy department, as I said before, the feeling is one of festivity, and laughter vibrates in the air. You can sense it on the party goods tables, where paper goods is vivid and with a flair for fun. You are impressed with it too, when you study the lovely Spice Islands array of herbs to use in those marvelous family dinners . . . and the stunning big boxes of Grosse and Blackwell holiday goods, such as fruit cakes, plum, date and fig puddings, hard sauce, and jams.

Then too there are tiny candy canes at one cent each to decorate the tree and delight the neighborhood children; there are big, square glass jars (nice size for sugar or cookies) filled with crystal clear candy toys in bright red and yellow. There are pea shooters containing tiny, pastel-colored candies, and best of all, surprise balls of ornamented tissue paper, filled with 12 unusual favors to please anyone of any age in party mood. These are adaptations of the yarn balls made years ago by doting grandmothers, and filled with little gifts. The selling price is 98c and they look like fun—it's definitely a temptation to "get on the ball" this Christmas.

Class Gives $5 To Chest; Plans Party

Ever Welcome Class of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church met Thursday night in the church parlor with Mrs. Edith Wagner presiding. The class voted $5 to the Community Chest and to have their meetings listed on the Aug Logan calendar.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party on December 15 at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, class teacher. Fifty-cent gifts will be exchanged and officers will be elected.

Instead of regular refreshments, each member brought a lunch to exchange. Those present were Mrs. Hazel Fenner, Mrs. Ida Strunk, Mrs. Edith Wagner, Mrs. Myrtle Werkheiser, Mrs. Ellen Thomas, Mrs. Martha Starner, Mrs. Edna Imbt, Mrs. Jennie Miller, Mrs. Elizabeth Hintze, Mrs. Ruth Warnick, Mrs. Emma Butz and Mrs. Agnes Bayer.

Paradise PTA Hears Of Jointure

Swiftwater—The meeting of the Paradise Parent-Teachers Association at the school here Monday night was busy with current projects and reports.

Mrs. Jack Manchester, president, read a letter from the children of the school thanking the PTA for their Halloween party. Mrs. John Hamblin reported that the luncheon has been painted.

Thorton Counterman reported on the rapid advancement in the Boy Scout Troop No. 95, and urged all eligible boys to join. Mrs. Alfred Freeland reported on the current progress of the World Friendship poster project of the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. David Neison announced that the local membership is nearing the 100% goal, and displayed a membership tree poster made by Mrs. Freeland. Reports on the PTA State Convention were given by Mrs. Alvin Ziegler and Mrs. Freeland.

Program chairman, Mrs. Freeland, introduced Dr. Anthony Bolyn who spoke on "What Jointure Means To Our School," reporting current progress by the Pocono Mountain Jointure steering committee, concerning by-laws under consideration and the structure of the jointure. An interesting discussion period followed his talk.

A community square dance and cake walk, a monthly project, will be held at the school on Friday, Nov. 25, at 8 p.m., sponsored by PTA. Jack Manchester reported on last month's dance, revealing a profit of $32.30.

The annual Christmas party for the children will be held on Dec. 12, immediately following the regular meeting of the PTA, it was announced. The fifth and sixth grades, taught by Alfred Freeland, were awarded the parent representation prize.

RILEY

Sports Editor

MARTY BALDWIN, well known sportsman who lives in Stroudsburg, and has his office in East Stroudsburg, has come up with a fine gesture for the Thanksgiving Day football game between the respective high schools at Gordon Giffels Field. Baldwin has decided to donate a football for the game, which will be used only for the kickoff. The ball will then be retired from play and given to the East Stroudsburg team. Each of the Cavaliers will sign the ball and present it to Evan Reese.

Reese, a member of the East Stroudsburg High football squad, suffered a broken leg in a recent junior varsity tussle and is now a patient at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. Baldwin's plan was approved by both coaches, John Whitehead and Jack Kist. The special souvenir program, the first of its kind in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg series, is said to have 36 pages. It will sell for 25 cents.

Dick Gray, quarterback for the East Stroudsburg football squad, made the cover of this month's issue of the Pathelete, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association magazine. The photo, which originally appeared in The Daily Record, shows Gray crossing home plate in a baseball game against Allentown at Giffels Field last spring. The contest was the semi-final game of the District 11 PIAA playoffs and East Stroudsburg went on to win.

Bill Sommers, since graduated, is shown rounding third base in the same photo. Sommers was the ace hurler for the club. Ken Wolfe is the Allentown catcher in the picture. A group shot of the baseball Cavaliers, Lehigh-Northampton League and District 11 champions, appears on page seven of the same issue of the Pathelete. Hawley, Wayne County Conference and District 12 title holder, is honored with a group photo on page five of the same issue.

The Rotary football luncheon on Thursday was termed one of the best in the history of the affair. The Stroudsburg Rotary club annually honors both the East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High School grid machines prior to the Thanksgiving Day clash. Ted Roscher, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College soccer squad, is also an accredited PIAA soccer official. The Line Material Girls Bowling League won't roll next Wednesday night because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Ron Mrozinski, southpaw hurler for the Phillies, won't be on the speaking agenda at tonight's Pocono Mountains Baseball League banquet at the Lake House, Stroudsburg. The reason is simply that the White Haven resident is pitching for "Valencia," of the Venezuelan Association. Ron, who began his professional career with Cardinals of the class "D" North Atlantic League, now defunct, recently had a string of 27 scoreless innings snapped by Magallanes.

The 27 frames came in three straight nine-inning shutout performances. Each of the blankings was over a different foe. The 27-inning stretch erased the former record of 22 and one-third frames held by Ben Flowers, of the St. Louis Cardinals. Mrozinski, who has appeared at Pocono Mountains League banquets in the past, is one of the big reasons Valencia is leading the league at the present time. He may also be of big help to the Phillies next season.

Jerry Stulgaitis, Stroudsburg Junior High football coach, and Whitehead will attend the Lehigh-Lafayette football game today. Kist will be on the Army side of Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium rooting for Navy a week from today. Dave Nevil, former three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, captained Lehigh's freshmen in their final game against Lafayette. Nevil scored Lehigh's only touchdown on a pass as the Engineers suffered a 13-6 loss.

Karl Weingartner, another former three-letterman at Stroudsburg High, was the big reason Lafayette's frosh won, even though the quarterback was hampered by a hip injury. We missed one of four football selections on the local front last Saturday. At the present time the mark is 20 correct over 10 incorrect. The last choice of the current campaign will be Bangor over Pen Argyl on Thanksgiving afternoon. This reporter never has predicted the outcome of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg football battle and this year will be no exception.

Pocono Mountains Baseball League To Hold Banquet

Awards To Be Made At Annual Affair

SAYLORSBURG — The Pocono Mountains Baseball League will hold its annual banquet here at the Lake House today, with one of the largest crowds in history expected to attend the event. Dinner is scheduled to be served at 6:30 p.m.

Clinton I. Getz, circuit president, announced yesterday that Joe Paparella, American League umpire, would be the guest speaker. Getz also revealed that it is quite possible that a well known baseball player may be in attendance.

Also on the list of distinguished guests are George "Buck" Boyle, Allentown, and Stanley Figlock, a comedian from Wilkes-Barre.

Tom Hughes, former pitcher with the Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Redlegs, will be on hand, as will such local professional stars as Ray Steele, Bushkill; Harry Warner, Reenders, and Ronnie Esrang, Jim Thorpe.

Organizations

Steele and Esrang both played with Lancaster, of the class "B" Piedmont League last season, while Warner was with Jacksonville, of the class "A" South Atlantic League.

Many trophies will be presented to teams and individuals alike. Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, will present The Daily Record Trophy to pennant winning Saylorburg. Paparella umpired in the now defunct Canadian-American League, and then in the Eastern League and American Association before graduating to the American League in 1946. He has worked two World Series and two All-Star games. Joe is a resident of Eynon, Pa.

Music will be provided by a Hamburg, Pa., scholastic orchestra for dancing after dinner.

More Stock For Comisky

CHICAGO, Nov. 18 (AP) — Charles Comisky II celebrated his 30th birthday today and his most valuable present was a block of 564 shares of Chicago White Sox stock. The "gift" came to the Sox vice president under terms of the will of his father, J. Louis Comisky, who died in 1939.

More Coming

Chuck now holds almost 1,130 of the 7,500 shares of Sox stock, the first parcel coming when he was 21. He receives the third share of his inheritance, now held in trust, when he becomes 35.

Thus, in 1960, Comisky will control 1,694 shares, the same number as his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, Sox secretary and wife of the club's newly appointed co-vice president, John Rigney.

The club president, Mrs. Grace Comisky, mother of Dorothy and Chuck, owns 4,062 shares.

Panthers Win Grid Struggle

PANTHERS scored a 26-21 victory over the Blackhaws in a Stroudsburg Gra-Y football game played on the Stroudsburg High School field yesterday afternoon.

Touchdowns

Elton LaBar scored a pair of touchdowns, while Charley Shier and Howard Allegar each tallied one for the Panthers. Terry Lee added a pair of extra points for the Panthers.

Fred Pugh tallied all three touchdowns credited to the Blackhaws and Dennis Butsch added the losing squad's only extra point.

Mikan Seeks Congress Seat

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 18 (AP) — "Mr. Basketball" — George Mikan — is interested in becoming a congressman.

Republican

The former college and professional basketball star, currently general manager of the National Basketball Association's Minneapolis Lakers, appeared at a Republican district meeting last night as a "known aspirant."

Mikan, 31, also is a Minneapolis attorney.

Pastrano Gains Easy Nod

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP) — Willie Pastrano, a nimble dancing man from New Orleans with quick, accurate hands darted in and out against plodding Joe Rowan tonight to win an unanimous decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 181½.

Pastrano, 19, was almost too "cute" for his own good at times as he walked into the path of Rowan, an ever-charging aggressor. Still Willie was much too fast for the Irishman from Phoenixville, Pa., as he dashed in to land a quick jab and then

Little Brown Jug

Little Brown Jug Rapidly Filling With Historic Facts

LITTLE BROWN JUG—the most valuable football prize in the world—as far as Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg are concerned, goes on the block for the 11th time next Thursday morning, when the respective high school grid rivals take off all the wraps at Gordon Giffels Field.

The Jug, actually a copper utensil used in colonial times as a tea or syrup pitcher, is currently resting in the trophy case at East Stroudsburg. The Jug is rated an excellent chance of returning it to W. Main St., where it was a part of the furniture for seven years.

Stroudsburg won the first seven games of the series, but East Stroudsburg has battled back to win the next three.

The Little Brown Jug idea was instituted in the series when the first game was planned back in 1945. The idea was presented by Marty Baldwin, well known local sportsman.

Baldwin, a graduate of the University of Michigan, carried the idea over from the Michigan-Minnesota rivalry, which features the original Little Brown Jug as the big prize.

Marty searched high and low for a brown jug prior to the first game and just when the search appeared hopeless George Stockel, well known local jeweler, came to the rescue. Stockel made Baldwin a gift of the present Little Brown Jug and Marty gave it to the two schools for the Thanksgiving Day Tussle.

Baldwin also donated the original ball back in 1945.

YMCA Cagers Launch Season With Nod Over Weissport

STROUDSBURG YMCA, ready to enter the Blue Mountain Basketball League, launched its cage campaign with a 65-41 victory over Weissport last night on the Monroe County YMCA court.

The Stroudsburg contingent held the upper hand in each of the four periods, inflicting most of its damage in the first half.

Baltimore Elects New President

BALTIMORE, Nov. 18 (AP) — James Keely, 43, house builder, became president of the Baltimore Orioles today, taking on the job of making a baseball winner out of the team.

Actually, the work will depend on Paul Richards who started the task as boss of the players on and off the field last season.

The newly elected directors unanimously reaffirmed their confidence in Richards and "their wholehearted support in his operations of the ball club," which finished seventh. He has two more years to go on his contract.

Promoter

Keely replaced Clarence W. Miles, who promoted the money for bringing the American League franchise from St. Louis two years ago. Miles resigned. He is reported to be considering seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate next year.

There also had been rumblings the past season among some directors, and seven threw their stock representing 51 per cent into a voting trust. Keely was among the seven.

Miles was reelected to the board of 13 directors. His law partner, Clyde Morris, who resigned as treasurer, wasn't. Neither attended the annual meeting of stockholders and directors.

'Stilt' Scores 42 Points

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 18 (AP) — Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain of Philadelphia lured 14,000 fans into Phog Allen Field House tonight and delighted them with a 42-point outburst as the Kansas freshmen defeated the Jayhawk varsity 81-71.

Chamberlain was elected to the board of 13 directors. His law partner, Clyde Morris, who resigned as treasurer, wasn't. Neither attended the annual meeting of stockholders and directors.

Collegiate Grid Machines In Showdowns

By Will Grimsley
The Associated Press

INJURIES and capricious weather became important factors as the college football season reached "climax Saturday" today with the bowl hopes of half a dozen teams riding on the outcome of key games.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., where Michigan and Ohio State clash for the Big Ten championship, grounds keepers dug out from a wintry mid-week storm and prepared for a chilly, dizzy day.

The weatherman predicted clear skies after an original forecast of rain at Los Angeles, where UCLA meets Southern California in renewal of their bitter backyard rivalry which this time affects the Rose Bowl ambitions of UCLA.

Television

In the Pacific Coast Battle, which will be nationally televised (NBC) starting at 1:15 p. m., PES, or 4:15 p. m. Eastern Time, UCLA a 10-point favorite, will be without the services of its ace passer, Ronnie Knox. Ronnie suffered a broken ankle last week.

Southern California reports a long hospital list but no injury severe enough to keep a Trojan out of this important skirmish.

UCLA, fifth ranked nationally and beaten only by Maryland, must win to clinch the host berth at Pasadena. A loss could throw the honor in the direction of Oregon State, if the Webfoots best Oregon at Eugene.

Michigan is conceded a one-touchdown edge over Ohio State, the Rose Bowl representative a year ago, but these odds may depend on the health of Ohio State's brilliant Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy. Hoppy was hurt in an automobile accident this week but reports are he has only a stiff neck and will be in full cry.

Should the sixth-ranked Michigan's bow to the No. 9 Buckeyes, the Rose Bowl bid would go to Michigan State, the team many regard as the mid-west's best. Michigan State, third ranked nationally, has completed its Big Ten schedule with only a loss to Michigan and closes with non-league Marquette today.

Orange Bowl

The Orange Bowl promoters at Miami can remain comfortable in the knowledge they have latched on to the two top-ranking teams in the nation in Oklahoma and Maryland and that neither should be in serious danger.

Oklahoma's No. 1 Sooners, on a 27-game winning binge, meet an improved Nebraska eleven, which may be fired up by the announcement of Coach Bill Glassford that this is his last game with the Cornhuskers. Maryland meets George Washington, without the starting services of Frank Tamburello, first string Terrapin quarterback. Both are favored by 20-plus points.

Texas Christian, with the country's top touchdown-maker in Jim Swink, can nail down the Cotton Bowl bid by whipping Rice. Texas A&M, the league leader which closed against Texas Nov. 24, can't play in a bowl because of punitive measures by the Southwest Conference. Chances of lifting these restrictions appear remote.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, which would be happy to catch the Texas Aggies on first bounce, will have to wait a week or so before filling its bill. Auburn, a candidate, plays Clemson at Mobile, Ala., while Tennessee, also in the New Orleans picture, tackles Kentucky at Lexington, Ky. Mississippi and Georgia Tech, the other bowl eligibles, sit this one out.

Notre Dame, the No. 4 team in the Associated Press poll, takes on a traditionally tough rival, Iowa, at South Bend. Army and Navy take time out to prepare for the big service class Nov. 26 at Philadelphia.

In the Ivy League, where a team wouldn't be caught dead with a bowl bid, Princeton is favored to clinch the championship by beating Dartmouth at Princeton, Yale, which bowed to Princeton last week, still has a look-in should the Tigers lose.

Pope Pius High Closes Football Campaign Today Against Washington Junior Varsity

ROSETO — Pope Pius High will close its football season here at Roseto Park today with the Washington, N.J. High junior varsity providing the opposition. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 2 p.m.

The Royals, currently closing their best season in history, are sporting a record of two victories and three defeats and would like nothing better than to even the record with a favorable decision today.

Seniors Sam Janette, an end; Don Guida, tackle, and Armon DeFranco, halfback, will be playing their final game for the Royals.

Coach Joe Villiano said last night that his starting lineup would have Paul Schwork and Janette at the end posts; Dick Caracio and Sam Campanaro, guards; Anthony Cerino, center; Faust Capobianco, quarterback;

Mike Sabatine, reserve guard, won't be in uniform for today's contest because of illness.

The Royals escaped injury in last Sunday's battle with Lansdale Catholic.

Pope Pius will have its band, under the direction of Louis Angeline, performing before the game and at halftime.

Jim Tatum

Tatum To Appear At Local Clinic

JIM TATUM, coach of the nationally rated University of Maryland Terapins, will headline next June's Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Football Coaches Association Clinic to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, it was announced last night by Marty Baldwin, clinic director.

Tatum will headline the football division of the four-day clinic that opens on June 18. He will lecture on Monday and Tuesday for a total of six hours, Baldwin revealed.

Orange Bowl

Maryland is currently rated second in the national football poll conducted by the Associated Press. The Terapins trail Oklahoma by a narrow margin and are currently heading for a showdown battle with the Sooners in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

This will be Tatum's second visit to the local clinic.

Miami Rips Alabama

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 18 (AP) — Miami's powerful fullback, Don Boseler, rammed through Alabama's line for three touchdowns tonight to lead the Hurricanes to a 34-12 victory over the Crimson Tide. It was Miami's fourth straight win.

Bears Battle Lions In Scrap For Western Division Lead

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO'S HUSTLING BEARS, who rose from the depths to a tie for first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League, have a chance to grab the top rung all for themselves tomorrow.

Winners of five straight after blowing their first three, the resurgent Bears are favored to whip the weakening Lions at Detroit in a first meeting of the teams this season. Beaten in their first six starts, the Lions, defending conference champions, snapped out of their slump with consecutive victories over Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

The Bears and the Los Angeles Rams are tied for the top in the west with 5-3 records followed closely by Baltimore and Green Bay with 4-4 each. San Francisco (3-5) and Detroit (2-6) are out of it, barring miracles.

Los Angeles, whipped by the Bears last week, and the Colts, defeated in their last two, have it out in a "crucial" contest at Baltimore. This is another first meeting of the season.

Important Battle

Green Bay's Packers fight to keep in the race in a game with San Francisco at Milwaukee. The Packers racked up the Chicago Cards last week while the 49ers were downed by Washington for their second loss in succession.

Cleveland, which figured to romp away with the Eastern title, suddenly finds itself threatened by Washington's Redskins, winners of two straight. The Browns only have a game edge now with their 6-2 record against Washington's 5-3. Behind them come Pittsburgh 4-4, Chicago Cards and Philadelphia 3-4-1 each, and New York 3-5.

The Browns should have more trouble against Pittsburgh at Cleveland than Washington with the Cards at Chicago. The Steelers have lost three in a row and are rarin' to get back in the picture. Washington was beaten 24-10 earlier in the season by the Cards, but the Skins have righted themselves since.

Philadelphia and New York, both apparently out of the race, collide for the second time this year at the New York Polo Grounds.

Filchuck Signs Fourth Contract

REGINA, Nov. 18 (AP) — Frank Filchuck, coach of Saskatchewan's Roughriders for the past three seasons, has signed a contract to pilot the Western Interprovincial Football Union team for a fourth term.

Ken Carpenter, all-around backfielder who won the league scoring championship with 18 touchdowns — a WIFU record — also has signed for 1956.

Twin City To Receive Title Trophy

TWIN CITY will be honored as champion of the Monroe County Softball League for the 1955 campaign at a banquet to be held in the Towne Room of the Town Tavern today.

The banquet is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

Twin City will be represented with a huge trophy for winning both halves of the Monroe County Softball League schedule last summer. Twin City also finished third in the state tournament sponsored by the Keystone Amateur Softball Association.

Remarks

Bruce Possinger, president of the league last season, and Joe Whalen, newly elected president, will speak at the gathering.

Dick "Dip" Lessig, manager of Twin City, will accept the trophy for his club.

The banquet is being staged for all players and wives or girl friends of Twin City players.

Hockey Results

National League
Chicago 6, Boston 1 (only game scheduled)
American League
Pittsburgh 2, Cleveland 1 (only game scheduled)
Eastern League
Philadelphia 3, Washington 2 (ever-time)
